UNION LEAGUE.—The State Council of this Order meets this morning at ten o'clock, at the rooms of the Common Council of the city. A number of the prominent men of the State are here as delegates.

THE SOLDIERS' CONVENTION, that held its sessions in this city, yesterday, was, in several respects, a notable body. All of them had seen actual service in the field. Not a few of them bore honorable scars. Some of them had been maimed by the scythe of battle. Many of them had written their names imperishably in the annals of the great war. Nor were these their only claims to distinction. In personal appearance and bearing; in aptitude for business; and in general intelligence, the Convention was much above the average of State Convocations. It was every way a marked assembly.

TIME'S AVENGES.

In 1859 the Rev. E. D. McMASTERS, D. D., L. L. D., was defeated in the election for Professor of Theology in the Presbyterian Theological Seminary at Chicago. His avowed anti-slavery sentiments stood in the way of his success. His friends in the Church, and outside thereof, have felt that a great wrong was committed, in the interest of a bad system, which then held as absolute sway in theological circles as in political. This wrong has at last been righted. The General Assembly, in session at St. Louis, has elected the Doctor to the Chair of Theology in the O. S. Seminary at Chicago. No one will question his eminent qualifications for the place to which he has been almost unanimously appointed.

THE Pottsville Miners' Journal states that the President has removed from the Postmastership at Ashland, Schuylkill county, Captain Levi C. Leib, late of the 129th Pennsylvania regiment, a gallant soldier of the Republic, who was desperately wounded at the battle of Fredericksburg while fighting to save the life of the nation, and who, in consequence, has lost the entire use of his left arm. Capt. Leib, in consideration of his crippled condition, was appointed to the position about a year since, and has since discharged the duties of the office to the satisfaction of the people of Ashland. The person selected to succeed Capt. Leib is a daughter of Sheriff Horan, known to be incompetent, and who will have, in case she is confirmed, one of the most bitter, unscrupulous and malignant Copperheads living in Ashland to run the office for her. Mr. COWAN is said to be at the bottom of this change. Is this the dodge by which the removal of disabled soldiers, who do not support "My Policy," is to be excused?

"A VERY interesting, and to some extent amusing, ceremony has been going on at the freedmen's village, Arlington Heights, during the past few days. By order of the Freedmen's Bureau, two hundred and forty seven couples have been regularly united in wedlock by clergymen detailed for that purpose. Many of these are old persons, who are parents of grown-up children, but who were never legally married. Such were quite loth to comply with the order, regarding their relations as having been practically realized and sanctified by time and faithful observance; but they were all re-married, and of course much excitement and many grotesque scenes were the result."—New York Times.

This is only an incidental ray of light, revealing the horrors of almost a bottomless pit. Yet our cotemporary and all of its school maintain that reorganization can best be accomplished without fixed provisions for the care and elevation of four millions of the Southern population.

ON Monday Governor Curtin signed the bill disfranchising deserters from the draft, and the fact was duly communicated by electricity to all parts of the Commonwealth. In the afternoon of that day the Harrisburg Telegraph furiously assailed the Governor for not doing what he had already done in the premises. A grain of discretion is sometimes of great value in managing a public journal.

THE Rev. Mr. Ferguson, of Zanesville, Ohio, was expelled from the Old School General Assembly at St. Louis, because of a defamatory letter written by him to the Ohio Statesman, respecting the Hon. Sam'l Galloway. The reverend gentleman made a very humble apology which, in a secular assembly, would have been held entirely satisfactory; but it did not save him.

IT is reported from Washington that Secretary McCulloch has made up his mind to obey the law which forbids the appointment of rebels to office. He probably thinks it an act of condescension in him to obey the laws. Perhaps Mr. Stevens's threat of impeachment did good after all.

THE Post must excuse us. When it shall evince even a tolerably decent regard for Truth and Honor, we shall be ready to discuss public questions with it; but so long as it persists in totall ignoring both, we must be counted out.

THE citizens of Pittsburgh owe General Moorhead special thanks for the admirable manner in which he defended their interests in the debate on the Connellsville Railroad bill.

—It is expected that the Alexandria, Loudon and Hampshire Railroad will be in running order to Franwell the latter part of the present month, the bridge across Broad Run being nearly completed. The work will be pushed onward to Leesburg with vigor. An engineer is now surveying the route for a railroad to run from Winchester, to Salem, Va. This will give Baltimore command of the Shenandoah Valley trade, and take away from Alexandria until the Manassas Gap Railroad is rebuilt.

—The Cleveland Leader takes strong ground against the Congressional action of Mr. Spaulding, membr of Congress from that district. It avers that he has never uttered a single word a Congress in condemnation of the President's treachery to the Union party, while he has, in express terms, rebuked the Union men in Congress for their outspoken opposition to Mr. Johnson. The Leader, of course, is opposed to Mr. Spaulding's renomination.

—The locomotive superintendent of the Great Indian Peninsula Railway has appointed some natives who have been twelve, seventeen, and eighteen years in the company's employment, to the post of engine-drivers. Considering the difficulty and expense experienced in getting drivers from England, and keeping them in India, it is gratifying to have the prospect of turning native talent to account in that department. A very sensible move on the part of the superintendent.

—It is announced from Washington that the Democratic members of Congress have resolved to withdraw their moral support from Mr. Johnson unless he makes a positive recognition of it by a construction of the offices. Democratic moral support requires material compensatio.

Rare Works of Art.
The pedestrian on St. Clair street is irresistably attracted to gaze into the art windows of the well known photographer, B. L. H. Dabbs. At the present time there is upon exhibition a number of photographs finished by the artist Wenzel, which, for beauty of execution, are superior to anything ever turned out in this city. One cabinet photograph of a fifth son of ex. James Allision is worthy of special attention. It is a master piece of photographic art. Another, the picture of a little daughter of Mr. Burns, is the most faithful likeness of an earthly angel we have ever seen. The crowning photograph, however, is that of the bride of a well-known gentleman of Allegheny. It is a life-size or cabinet photograph, delicately colored, and as natural as life. These are many other specimens upon examination, and the admirer of the beautiful would do well to call in and closely examine the many superior works of photographic art in Mr. Dabbs' palatial establishment. He charges but reasonable prices for photographs, and every picture finished at his gallery bears the impress of superiority. His rooms are located at No. 25 St. Clair street.

Words of Vital Interest.
Will the thousands who read columns of frivolous verbiage every day devote five minutes to the perusal of a few facts which concern them nearly? Our text is Health, and we will put our commentary into a nutshell. Weakness, indirectly the cause of all sickness; for if nature be strong enough to resist the morbid influences which produce illness, of course they are powerless. Seek strength, therefore, invigorate and regulate the system. When the quick-silver ranges from 80 to 0° degrees in the shade, the most athletic are enfeebled and the weak are prostrated. It is at such a time that such an invigorator as HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS is urgently needed. What are the effects of this rare Vegetable Tonic? Would that all who have known its benefit could condense their experience into this paragraph. They would tell the healthy, to protect their health they must use this great safeguard against the debilitating influences. They would exhort the weak to discard all unmedicated and impure stimulants and cling to this wholesome and unfailing tonic and alterative as the shipwrecked mariner would cling to a raft in a stormy sea. They would, of dyspeptic pangs relieved, of appetite restored, of shattered nerves restrung, of headaches cured, of disordered functions regulated, of hypochondria dissipated, of miasmatic diseased baffled, of fever and ague cured, of liver complaints arrested, of heat, privation and toil defied, of hope reanimated, and cheerfulness restored. Such are the effects of HOSTETTER'S BITTERS.

Hostetter's Bitters

FROM ST. LOUIS.

Fenian Excitement—One Hundred Miles of Union Pacific Railroad Completed.

ST. LOUIS, June 5.—There is great excitement among the Fenians here. A large meeting was held at Mozart Hall last night, at which a committee of thirty prominent citizens were appointed to raise funds for war purposes. A tremendous mass meeting is being held at the Court-house to-night and the utmost enthusiasm prevails. It is believed that the efforts now being made will result in a union of the O'Mahoney and Roberts and Sweeny wings. It is expected another large delegation will leave for the North to-night, and that St. Louis will furnish three thousand men in all.

General Grant's family arrived here to-day. One hundred miles of the Union Pacific Railroad was completed yesterday, adding three hundred and eighty-three miles of continuous railway west of St. Louis. This company are now running regular trains over seventy-six miles of road, including the Lawrence and Leavenworth branch, and will reach Fort Kiley the latter part of July.

Piracies on the Chinese Coast—Russian American Telegraph Survey.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 5.—Advices from China state that piracies are more prevalent than ever.

Major F. L. Pope, Assistant Engineer of the Russian American Telegraph, has reported to Colonel Bulkley, Engineer-in-Chief, that he has surveyed the country from Lake Taila to the head waters of Stoking river, a distance of three hundred miles, and found an excellent route for building a telegraph line for that distance. The country north of Stoking river is believed to be of a similar character. After travelling five hundred miles on snow-shoes, Major Pope reached the ocean, one hundred miles north of Victoria. The native Indians were well disposed to the great enterprise.

The Public Debts—Receipts from Customs—Gold Sales.

NEW YORK, June 5—The morning papers have the following special dispatches from Washington. The public debt statement will show that the total amount of interest on debt will reach $20,000,000 against $8,000,000 last month; a decrease of $40,000,000 in coin, occasioned by gold sales on payment of interest on 5-20's, $21,000,000; total amount of gold on hand $40,000,000; gold certificates about $27,000,000.

The total receipts from Customs of the southern states last month were $16,500,000.

It is estimated that Mr. McCulloch's report of gold sales will show the sale of $55,440,000 in May, at an average premium of over thirty per cent., and that about $15,000,000 was sold in the latter part of February.

The Trial of Jeff Davis.

NEW YORK, June 5.—The Tribune's Washington special says Judge Underwood was called to that city yesterday by the President, for consultation concerning the trial of Jeff Davis. It is known to be the purpose of Judge Underwood to open his court in Richmond, and then adjourn it till the first Tuesday in October. The anticipation that Davis will be released on parole seems to be universally indulged in. District Attorney Chandler is so ill at Norfolk that he cannot be present at the opening of the court,

Opening of the United States District Court—Judge Underwood's Charge to the Grand Jury—Jeff. Davis' Counsel Present and Prepared Instantly to Try the Case—Speech of William B. Reed on Behalf of the Great Criminal—Protest Against the Suspension or Withdrawal of the Indictment.

RICHMOND, VA., June 5.—Judge Underwood, after consultation with General Terry, o pened the United States District Court this morning. Messrs. Reed, Brady, Brown, Van Sickle, Edmunds, Davis' counsel, were present. Some delay occurred before the panel was complete. Judge Underwood delivered his charge, of which the following are the principal points.

Gentlemen of the Grand Jury. I am happy to meet you again, and to know that you are still living, notwithstanding the calumnies that have been made upon you. Little need be said in addition to the instructions given at Norfolk. Your last session has made you historical, and I trust the efforts which have been made to intimidate you and to impede the course of justice will not make you less faithful and earnest in the discharge of your public duties.

The Judge then referred, in the severest terms, to the press of Virginia and the city of Richmond for its share in the odious slave trade. Complaints of threatened violence and intimidation which have been forwarded to me by several of your number, for your late merciful and patriotic actions, have been submitted to the highest legal and military authorities of the Government, and I can assure you of the earnest sympathy and firm support of all the officers of the law, not excepting the President, whom the treasonable now flatter and fawn upon, but whom they will probably soon curse as heartily as they did two years ago.

The Judge then recited the act punishing obstructors of justice. He charges them that they will have to exercise some restraint upon their pressure, and refrain so much from duels, assassinations, murders, &c., and concludes, without any hint touching the famous treason trial, as follows: But gentlemen, let us all be patient and calm and disinterested, for though a prostituted press is one of the greatest calamities, a free and virtuous press is one of the greatest public blessings, the greatest ornament, and the support of public virtue.

The grand jury retired, when Wm B. Reed, of Philadelphia, addressed the court as follows: May it please your Honor I beg to present myself in connection with my colleagues as the counsel of Jefferson Davis, a prisoner in the State of Fortress Monroe, and under indictment for high treason and misdemeanor. We find in the records of your Honor's court an indictment charging Mr. Davis with this high offence, and it has seemed to us that the time when the indictment was found due to the feelings of one sort or another, which may be described as chrystalizing around the Chief Justice, was not well brought home at the very earliest day to this tribunal, and ask of your Honor, or more properly the gentleman who represents the United States, the learned counsel, Chandler, if it is proposed to be done with this indictment? Is it to be tried? Is it, (and this is a question, perhaps, that, I have no right to ask,) is it to be withdrawn? Is the Judge simply to say that it is to be tried, may it please your Honor, speaking for my colleagues and myself, and for the absent client, say the district attorney is ready with his case, that he or the here prepared instantly to try that case, and we shall ask no delay at your Honor's hands further than necessarily to bring the prisoner to the bar, and any further time that the state may have such cases made and provided, to examine the bill of indictment against him. Is it to be withdrawn? If so, justice and humanity would require that no prompt action should know. Is it to be suspended or postponed? If so, may it please the Court, with all respect to your Honor and the gentlemen who represent the United States, we must enter our most earnest protest. We ask a speedy trial on any charge that may be brought against him. We are not advocates from abroad in the land. We may be now here representing, may it please the Court, a dying man. For thirteen months he has been in close confinement, and the United States guarantees to him, not only an impartial trial, which I am sure he will receive, but a speedy trial, and we have come with strong sympathies with our client profession and personal. We have come here simply to ask that question. I address it to the President's counsel, and I address it to the Judge, as may be more appropriate. What disposition is proposed to be made with the bill of indictment against Jeff. Davis, now pending, for high treason?

Maj. J. L. Hennessy, Assistant United States District Attorney, said he had been entirely unaware that any such motion was intended to be made. In the absence of the District Attorney, Mr. Chandler, he was not prepared to answer the question, but would immediately telegraph Judge Chandler the fact of such an application having been made. Mr. Chandler would probably arrive in Richmond this evening. If he failed to arrive, Major Hennessy said he would telegraph Washington to answer the question to-morrow morning.

Judge Underwood, addressing the counsel for Mr. Davis, said: I do understand that that will be satisfactory?

Mr. Reed—"Entirely so."

The Court then adjourned until to-morrow at 10 o'clock a. m.

LATER FENIAN ADVICES.

Fenians Leaving Boston—Main Column Moving Northward—Missing Generals Going to the Front—Brigade to leave New York—Arms for the Canadians—Alarming Rumors at Toronto—The Garrison Called to Arms—Fenian Prisoners to be Court-Martialed.

BOSTON, June 5.—It is estimated that six hundred Fenians left Boston yesterday afternoon for St. Albans and northern New York. About three hundred belonging to the third regiment left by the Lowell road under command of Col. B. F. ——, about an equal number took the Fitchburg railroad. These were a portion of Col. Conway's cavalry regiment. They were under the command of Capt. O'Neil Lakin.

BOSTON, June 5.—A special dispatch from St Albans dated to-day, says that the main column of Fenians commenced moving from Fairfield at four o'clock yesterday afternoon, the column heading for Swanton. Gens. Spear and Mahon remain at St. Albans to organize recruits and look after expected arrivals. The movements of material has delayed the movement. It is known that a large amount of much needed stores had been sent from Troy, N. Y., to the point, and the failure to arrive had caused serious disappointment. Trusty officers and men have been dispatched to hunt up and secure the missing material.

Seventeen cars of ammunition arrived from Massachusetts, this evening, bound to the front.

Gens. Spear and Mahon intend to leave for the front to-day.

NIAGARA, June 5.—A special from Hamilton, Canada West, says: Colonel Booker, relieved from command for his conduct in the battle of Limestone Ridge, has offered his resignation, which has been accepted.

A telegram from Prescott says no Fenian demonstration has yet taken place there. Prescott is crammed with troops of Fenian sympathizers, but the Government troops were sent forward to-night.

The enthusiasm and loyalty of the Canadians is unbounded. The action of the United States authorities is highly commended. The office at Hamilton is out.

The Tribune's special, dated Hamilton, C. W., to-day, at 10 a. m. says 2,000 men are now encamped along the line of the Welland and St. Clair rivers. The main concentration of troops is about Prescott, that being considered the real point of attack. Two thousand men have been sent to this point, it being cared for by the regulars and volunteers from Montreal. The west is quiet to-day, all the troops being at the front. Mr. Dufferin is expected to-night on his return from his part in the Limestone Ridge fight.

Col. James Kerrigan, late member of Congress, leaves here on saturday to command the fifty-fifth. Other officers are taking from various New York volunteer regiments in the late rebellion.

NEW YORK, June 5.—Intense excitement prevails to-day among the Fenians. There is a grand row-dow-dow in Tammany Hall and Roberts' Headquarters. Spirited addresses were delivered in all about City Hall Park to the effect that the delivery of the Fenian prisoners was demanded. Placard, paraded in the streets, stated that five thousand laborers were wanted, transportation secured.

It is said that two hundred men have been enlisted to-day, and that six hundred left to-night for Canada. The Fenian furor is increasing.

TORONTO, June 5.—Rumors of a most alarming character prevail to-day, and are talked of here during all last night, but they are mostly exploded this morning. At Goodrich, Sarnia, Collingwood, Windsor, and other principal points on the frontier, troops are coming from noon to-day. The obsequies of the Canadian volunteers killed at the battle of Ridgway are taking place here to-day. Business is entirely suspended. The body of the late Col. Booker lies in state at the City Hall. The Fenian prisoners brought here will probably be tried by court-martial without much delay. The feeling against them is most intense.

ST. ALBANS, VT., May 5.—Colonels Fressillon and Courtney, serving on General Sweeney's staff, have arrived here. The General is at Malone. The local cavalry were out this morning. The Vermont artillery are also under marching order. Large amounts of arms for the use of the Canadian government are allowed to pass without molestation, and other arms are seized.

From Italy.

NEW YORK, June 5.—The Tribune's Genoa correspondent says: The war in Italy is progressing very well. The Austrians are working like beavers at their fortifications, while the Venetians are coming over to join the Italian army.

In Calabeya a mob, incited by Bourbon agents, shouting cries of "Down with Victor Emanuel," "Viva Francis Second," and similar seditious cries, broke open the public offices and sacked them, and then rioted for several hours in houses of liberal citizens.

CONGRESSIONAL PROCEEDINGS.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, June 5.

Mr. Pomeroy introduced a bill to authorize the Secretary of the Interior to lease and preserve the public lands which contain mineral springs. Referred.

Mr. Grimes called up the resolution regulating the investment of pension funds.

Mr. Doolittle called up the bill to increase the pay of clerks in the Interior Department.

Mr. Nye called attention to the resolution of the Johnson Club, saying it was made up on the part of these clerks.

Mr. Edmunds reported the House bill for the protection of lives of passengers travelling on steamboats on Western rivers. Ordered to be printed.

At one o'clock the Reconstruction resolution was taken up.

Mr. Pollard took the floor to deliver a written speech.

Mr. Howard called up the proposed amendment to the Constitution. The pending question was upon the amendment proposed yesterday by Mr. Doolittle as a substitute for the second section. After the census to be taken in 1870, and each succeeding census, representatives shall be appointed among the several States which may be included within the Union according to the number in each State of male electors over twenty-one years of age, qualified by the laws thereof to choose members of the most numerous branch of its legislature, a direct tax shall be apportioned among the several States according to the value of real and personal taxable property situate in each State, not belonging to the United States, or to the United States guarantees to him, not only an impartial trial, which I am sure he will receive, but a speedy trial, all we have come with strong sympathies with our client profession and personal. We have come here simply to ask that question. I address it to the President's counsel, and I address it to the Judge, as may be more appropriate. What disposition is proposed to be made with the bill of indictment against Jeff. Davis, now pending, for high treason?

Maj. J. L. Hennessy, Assistant United States District Attorney, said he had been entirely unaware that any such motion was intended to be made. In the absence of the District Attorney, Mr. Chandler, he was not prepared to answer the question, but would immediately telegraph Judge Chandler the fact of such an application having been made. Mr. Chandler would probably arrive in Richmond this evening. If he failed to arrive, Major Hennessy said he would telegraph Washington to answer the question to-morrow morning.

Judge Underwood, addressing the counsel for Mr. Davis, said: I do understand that that will be satisfactory?

Mr. Reed—"Entirely so."

The Court then adjourned until to-morrow at 10 o'clock a. m.

Recent Government Sales of Gold—Statement by Secretary of Treasury—Public Debt on June 1st.

WASHINGTON CITY, June 5.—The Secretary of the Treasury, in response to the House question concerning the sales of gold in New York in May, reports that there was sold $25,000,000, paying C. M. Myers, the agent, for selling, one-eighth of one per cent. The rates at which the gold was sold was $20,635,000 at 130⅝, $6,350,000 at 130¾, $50,000 at 130⅞, $2,000,000 at 131¼, and $15,000 at 131½. These were the only sales since February. The coin in the Treasury, which had been accumulating, was held to facilitate a return to specie payment, or to be disposed of in any emergency to an extent to effect unjustly business, and especially the interest of the laboring and producing classes. These were his instructions to Mr. Vandyck, and his letter of explanation which was also submitted, shows they were fully carried out. The sales in February amounted to fifteen millions, at a premium of between thirty-seven and thirty-eight per cent., and were made on account of apprehended political conflictions. The sales in May were made on account of unfavorable financial intelligence from Europe. On the receipt of the disasters news from the Cuba, the sales were continued under an active demand, and a larger amount disposed of than would have been the case if word could have reached Mr. Van Dyck in time. When the secretary is satisfied with the proceedings, as a suspension at that time would have caused a panic. Though regretting the heavy sales, he says the action of Mr. Van Dyck was both courageous and judicious. The soundest merchants and bankers of New York concur in this opinion.

The following is a statement of the public debt of the United States on the first day of June, 1866:—Debt bearing Coin Interest, Five per cent. bonds, $16,854,000; Six per cent. bonds of 1867 and 1868, $1,822,359,180; Six per cent. bonds of 1881, $283,745,300; Six per cent. Five-Twenty bonds, $865,315,000. Total debt bearing coin interest, $1,103,262,480.

Torpedo Patent for Oil Wells—Decision by the Patent Commissioner—Confirmations by the Senate.

WASHINGTON, June 5.—The Commissioner of Patents has just decided a question of much importance to all practical operators in the petroleum regions. A patent for a torpedo for wells was issued to Col. E. A. Roberts, of New York, for a torpedo to be exploded at such required depth in such wells for the purpose of opening fissures into oil veins where such veins have proved altogether unproductive because they failed to directly penetrate such veins, or where they have become exhausted. Numerous applications of this torpedo have been made, in consequence of becoming clogged with paraffine. The claim was contested, but after months of investigation and discussion, the priority of invention in favor of Roberts, has been decided by the examiner-in-chief, is affirmed by the Commissioner.

The senate in executive session confirmed the following nominations: to be Deputy Post Masters, Jesse Moore, Owensboro, Kentucky; Silby Gilleston, Paris, Kentucky, Charles O. Burton, Los Angeles, California. To be Assessors of Internal Revenue, John McCalmont, Nashville, for Fifth District of Tennessee; John P. Balsinger, of Greene county, for the Fifth District of Tennessee. To be Collector of Customs, Albert Elmore, for District of Mobile, vice K. V. Montague, removed; Joshua Hills, for District of Savannah. To be United States Marshal, George Wood, for New York, at Rawlins. Collector of Internal Revenue, Henry L. Nowell, Nashville, for Fifth District of Tennessee; John W. Smith, of Springfield, for Third District of Massachusetts; James W. Quinn, of Indiana, to be Agent for the Creek Indians.

New York Items.

NEW YORK, June 5—Midnight.—Sergeant Power, the most Southern point of States Canal, has been arrested for violating the grounds. Each harbor police boat with seven armed revenue cutters, and ninety armed officers, are now engaged with the fourth officers to occupy the ground. Requisition from the government has been obtained to secure its possession.

The cholera patients will be landed at the point of Sandy Hook. Vessels loaded with cholera, small-pox and yellow fever patients are now encased in Lower Bay, and are in a horrible condition from excessive crowding and not being allowed to land. The Board of quarantine grounds will remedy this deplorable state of affairs.

Dr. Solomon Andrews made a second experiment with his flying machine from the Houston street. He ascended twenty-five hundred feet and when last seen was over Black well's Island, three miles from the point of starting.

During May 8000 emigrants arrived at this port, and since January 1st, 50,000. Thus far there is no diminution in the usual emigration at this season, and 1867 promises to show a larger emigration than ever before.

Astonishing frauds have been shown in the late assessment. In this city alone in one street opposing surveyors received last year about one hundred thousand dollars and various other city officials have been convicted of the grossest dishonesty.

Advices from New Orleans.

NEW ORLEANS, June 5.—Cotton nominal; sales of 80 bales to-day; receipts of 3 bales; receipts for four days, 5,08 bales, against 2,25 bales for the same time last year; stock on hand, 124,433 bales. Bank sterling 9 New York Bank Checks ¼ premium.

In the McDonough autographic will case Pierre Soule presented a petition for releasing it. The supreme Court returned it to have the objectionable words struck out. The Louisiana Bar is divided.

No Conclusion Arrived at in Jeff Davis' Case—The Fenian Prisoners not to be given to the British—Stephens Betrayed.

NEW YORK, June 5.—Specials to the evening papers say that no conclusion has yet been reached by the government in regard to bailing Jeff Davis.

No decision has been arrived at in respect to the Fenian prisoners in our possession. One thing has been positively decided and that is, not to surrender them to the British authorities.

Stephens, in his speech in Baltimore last night, says he had been betrayed, and if not betrayed, he both wings of the Fenians.

Arrival of Emigrants

Meeting of the Temperance League.

The Temperance League of Allegheny city held a meeting last night in Dr. Clark's Church. Addresses were delivered by several well-known orators, and a series of resolutions were passed, strongly condemning the action of certain parties who are at present advocating the interest of the liquor dealers in this city. The meeting was one of the largest gatherings of that character that has taken place since the organization of the League.

Accept our Thanks.—Captain G. Washington Tenn, of Harrisburg, will please accept our thanks for the favor shown us at the Soldiers' Convention, of which he was one of the Secretaries. Through his kindness and courtesy we obtained great assistance in making up our report of the proceedings.

Geary Endorsed—Treason is a Crime and Must be Punished—Spirited Addresses—and Great Enthusiasm—State Organization of the "National Union of the Boys in Blue"—Final Adjournment.

The Convention of honorably discharged soldiers and sailors of Pennsylvania assembled in this city yesterday forenoon, pursuant to call. About half past nine o'clock, the delegates, having been collected from the various hotels, marched through the streets, escorted by a brass band, and under the guidance of Major Generals James S. Negley, of this county, and Joshua T. Owen, of Philadelphia, to the Academy of Music, on Liberty street, the place selected for the Convention. Soon after the delegates were seated, and sufficient order prevailed, the Convention was called to order by General Negley taking the chair. Captain G. Washington Fenn, of Harrisburg, was chosen temporary secretary.

A resolution was offered that the delegates to the Convention pledge themselves to conform to its regulations.

General Owen thought the resolution superfluous, as all true soldiers who participated in the proceedings would consider themselves bound thereby. After some discussion the resolution was withdrawn.

A committee on Credentials, consisting of one from each Congressional District, was appointed, and also three Sergeants-at-Arms, (Captain G. L. Brann, J. M. Carr and Sergt. Clifford) to keep order and prevent the intrusion of outsiders.

The Convention then took a recess for half an hour, to await the report of the Committee on Credentials.

RE-ASSEMBLING.

The Committee on Credentials having concluded their labors, reported the following delegates entitled to seats:

Philadelphia—Gen. Joshua T. Owen, Gen. C. H. T. Collis, Col. W. B. Sipes, Maj. Edmund De Biek, Capt. J. S. Stretch, Capt. H. Connor, Sergt. Archibald, Private T. J. Neill, Henry Rudolph, Corpor

THE MEXICAN IMBROGLIO.

The Declaration of Independence, among other essential truths, asserts that it is the right of any people to alter or abolish the form of government to which they have been accustomed, and having abolished an old government to institute a new one, organizing its powers on such a basis as shall give them satisfaction, whether it pleases others or not. This right pertains to the Mexican people in common with all others. It is not the province of outsiders to call in question what they do, much less by force to constrain their choice.

Mr. WASHINGTON, in his Farewell Address, laid down some wholesome doctrine, which is directly applicable to this point, when he admonished his countrymen to beware of entangling alliances with foreign nations. Of all connections with foreign powers, there is clearly none so absurd and mischievous as a standing engagement to supervise the foreign relations of all the nations on this continent. Besides, such an engagement is repugnant to the settled policy of this government in another respect, which is to recognize all de facto governments, without stopping to inquire how or why they were organized This policy has had important results hitherto, and will continue to have so long as there are despotisms to be overthrown and popular governments to be set up.

Mr. MONROE in his first annual message called attention to this Policy, and carried his zeal for it to such excess that he fitted out a ship of war to cruise along the South American continent, for the express purpose of hunting up governments that had not been able to make a report of their own existence. His precise words are: "To obtain correct information on every subject in which the United States are interested it has been thought proper to send a ship of war along the South American coast with instructions to touch at different points, and hold communication with the existing authorities—with those in possession of and exercising the sovereignty." That was rather "running the thing into the ground," but there was a principle at the bottom of the matter calculated to excite warmth in any statesman who had not fallen into that apathetic state known as Consefvatism. In his seventh annual message Mr. MONROE returned to this subject, and laid down his rule, which was: "To consider the Government de facto as the legitimate Government for us to cultivate friendly relations with." This is a Monroe Doctrine, which it will do, as the fundamen say, "to tie to."

There are rumors upon the air that persons at Washington, claiming to be statesmen, are intriguing to frame and set up a government for the Mexicans, with General SANTA ANNA at its head. Now, it must be admitted that General SANTA ANNA succeeded better in administering the government of Mexico than any other man who has tried his hand on that perilous undertaking; but even he did not succeed so well as to have his example held up as a model for admiration. The fault was not in him, but in the people. They are lacking in all the solid elements of character essential to national greatness under any form of government, and most of all in those degrees of mental and moral development indispensable to the permanence of self-government. Nor do we know with what greater propriety politicians at Washington can assume to frame a government, select its chief, and impose it on the Mexicans, than politicians at Paris and Vienna.

Under this aspect the intrigue is highly censurable; but when it is seriously proposed to invest many millions of dollars in this speculation, and thus add to the burdens of our own people, which are carried none too lightly now, our patience becomes quite exhausted. Mexico is essentially anarchical. Unrest, turbulance, is not merely a chronic condition of Mexican society. It is its normal condition. Plunderers, thieves, cut-throats—are these the materials on which to expend sympathy, and out of which a stable and reputable government can be educed? General SANTA ANNA is a statesman of more than ordinary breadth of understanding, and solidity of purpose; but did he, in his best days, make a government under which treaties were held sacred, and personal rights fairly protected? Every body knows he did not; and that the fault was not his. Mexico is "a bad egg," and hence we would not invest a continental shin-plaster in her behalf.

THE CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT.

Reports have been current for some days past that the President was disposed to accept the new Constitutional Amendment as modified by the Senate; and that, in consequence, the hostile elements, at the capital, whose existence all good men deplore, would soon mingle in fraternal concord. We see no evidence that such a consummation is likely to be realized.

The Senate will pass the joint resolutions, with its substitute for the third section. It is fair to presume, from the divisions hitherto on the subject, that the majority for the measure will exceed two-thirds. In the substitute the House will undoubtedly concur, for the radicals of that body regard it with greater favor than the original proposition. The third section, as it passed the House, was both impracticable and temporary. By it, the right of rebels to vote was taken away till after 1870; but the enforcement of such a provision is impossible. The Senate substitute cuts off the heads of all the tall people among the rebels. It excludes the rebel leaders from political power, and is both practicable and perpetual.

It is highly desirable that the President should concur in this amendment. His concurrence, and active influence in support of it, would secure its adoption, with comparatively little delay, and make complete the restoration of the Union within a year.

THE LAST MOVEMENT.

It seems decreed that the Irish people shall perpetually be the dupes of charlatans and adventurers, and expend their admirable enthusiasm in misdirected and unavailing efforts to re-establish their nationality. Every man of cool judgment in the United States has seen from the beginning that the Fenian movement, so far as it aimed at the liberation of Ireland from English domination, was purely chimerical, and could end only in disaster. Irish men and women were bewildered by the intensity of their emotions. What, at most, were simply means of annoying the British Government and people, their zeal transmuted into revolutionary elements of so potent a character as to preclude the possibility of miscarriage and disappointment. Under a leadership combining experience, tact, ability and daring, this annoyance might have become serious and expensive, but could not have arisen into proportions dangerous to the British empire. The actual leadership has been of a totally different stamp. So long as the duties consisted mainly in receiving the contributions of liberal but weak-minded serving men and women, and expending the larger part thereof in luxurious living and empty display, the chiefs of the movement were fully competent to the parts they voluntarily assumed. But for the delicate and arduous duties of devising a plan of offensive operations, holding out a reasonable assurance of success, and putting that plan into exection, they were altogether incompetent.

Head Center STEPHENS, in his Philadelphia speech, made these pregnant observations:

"The men in Ireland ought to be consulted as to the means which should be employed for their liberation. In Ireland their organization is larger and more powerful than any similar conspiracy that has ever existed in Europe or elsewhere, and will undoubtedly accomplish the end for which it has been formed, if the Irishmen in this country do not disappoint those at home. General Sweeny, President Roberts and all other leaders in favor of attacking Canada would not be safe for six hours in Ireland, where it is absolutely necessary that fighting should take place this year or the organization will dissolve, never again to be reunited."

Every body sees a raid into Canada will give the British trouble; but how it will contribute to free Ireland does not appear.

Horrible Revelations of Life Before the Mast.

The crew of the ship Cultivator, of the Black Star line, Captain Russell, which lately arrived at New York from Liverpool, reveal a tale of horror almost unparalleled. According to the statement of some of the seamen of this vessel, from the time she weighed anchor, on the 22d of March last, until the 16th of last month, when she reached New York, the crew were subjected to the most brutal kind of treatment. The chief perpetrator of the outrages inflicted on the unfortunate seamen was the first mate, Munson, the captain encouraging this cruelty, and seeming to enjoy it. On the very first day of the voyage, while in the Mersey, the mate knocked a man out of the rigging. He fell on the deck, breaking several of his ribs, and was then sent ashore, thus escaping further harm.

On the same day another man was knocked off the yard arm with a handspike by Munson, but he fortunately saved himself by catching a rope as he fell. Another poor wretch was knocked down and stamped upon so horribly that upon recovering his senses he bade his comrades farewell and deliberately threw himself overboard. Such was the commencement of a voyage that lasted more than fifty days. Every day a man was knocked down with a marlinspike or capstan bar. Whenever any work was to be done Munson would stand by and knock the first man down who gave signs of weariness, and urge the others to redoubled exertions by liberal blows upon the back and shoulders. When a bar was not in his hands he carried a small weapon made of iron wire, about the size of a cane, the marks of which are individ and festering welts on the backs of many of the crew.

One sailor was selected as the particular object of his fiendishness. He was laid upon the deck and twelve of the crew deputed to beat him with straps, ropes and sticks, under threats of similar punishment for themselves if they refused. Men were kicked while at the wheel. One had his teeth knocked out by a marlinspike; another was knocked down regularly every day with an iron crowbar or some other weapon, and numberless other outrages were committed during the voyage of, fifty days. When the men arrived in port they were covered with cuts, bruises and scars from head to foot, and looked more like veterans from the war than the seamen of a merchantman.

ON Saturday a free dinner to the negroes came off, near Columbus, Georgia. A large number were in attendance. They were addressed by ex-Provisional Governor Johnson. He compared them to the descendants of Joseph in Egypt. They had been reduced to slavery, and after many years were made free. The ancestors of the negro sold him; they were put to trial and kept so; since they have greatly increased in number and intelligence; after two hundred years of probation, the negroes, by the fullness of time and the providence of God, through the instrumentality of men, have gained their freedom, which will remain to them and their descendants forever. He advised them to be industrious, frugal and honest, and to be careful about making contracts, and reduce them to writing, if possible, and abide by them. He had seen rapid advances made to high civilization during the past year. They should be charitable, care for the aged, and build churches and school houses. They should obey all the laws, and not take redress upon themselves. The civil courts were open to them. He advised them to respect all the legal authorities, and try to bring to light all crime. The Government has declared their freedom and will maintain it. Their rights would be protected. He hoped slavery would soon be removed from Brazil and other countries, and the world would then unite for the civilization of Africa. Two negroes spoke after Gov. Johnson had finished.

A LETTER, received at Washington yesterday, from Government officials at Liverpool, England, says:

"The declared value of British and Irish exports shipped to the United States during the quarter ending March 31st last, amounted to £7,246,917, ($36,017,157,) against the same period last year, £2,853,600, ($14,182,392.) This does not include foreign products, such as teas and silks from China, spices from India, wool from the Cape, &c., brought to England, and from thence shipped to this country. Every effort is being made here to extend this business. They are working for a repeal or modification of our present tariff.

"The manufacturers here hope to bring this about by agitation in the United States—particularly in the Western States—to be done through foreign houses and agents in Philadelphia, New York and Boston. Our own people will be put in the foreground. Our well-fed laborers cannot compete with pauper labor here. Whatever effort and money can accomplish will be done."

SUICIDE OF AN ACTRESS.—Mrs. Moreland, wife of Harry Moreland, an actress, who had been performing at the Olympic Theatre, yesterday evening, at her place of residence on Girod street, between Philippa and Circus streets, committed suicide by taking chloroform or laudanum. We could not learn positively the cause which led her thus with her own hand to usher her soul into the presence of her God; but from the rumors coming from those who knew her, we think there can be no doubt but what domestic trouble or jealousy was at the bottom of it. Her husband, who is an actor at the Academy of Music, had bestowed his affections upon another woman, thus driving his wife to desperation. We should judge from her appearance that she was about eighteen or nineteen years old. —New Orleans Picayune of the 22d.

—The Memphis Argus "wishes to God that the niggers were back in Africa, in hell, or any other seaport town, including Boston." Judging from General Stoneman's report, the Argus followers backed up their words with deeds during the recent negro massacre.

The Door for the Capitol.

[From the Springfield (Mass.) Republican.]

The great Washington door for the new Capitol at Washington is being finished at the Ames works in Chicopee, where two entire years have been spent upon it. Many of the panels are already completed, and the work is progressing as fast as its peculiar complexity will allow. Designed by the lamented Crawford just previous to his death, it was his chef d'œuvre. Had he survived undoubted the contract for casting would have gone to Munich like its predecessor, the Columbus historic door, such was his prejudice against his country in this respect. The massive door has eight panels, four on a side, emblematic respectively of peace and war. On the side devoted to peace, commencing at the bottom, is a group of Washington and his family, representing the peaceful condition of the country at the close of the Revolutionary struggle. Next above is the ovation at Trenton, then a scene representing the administration of the oath of office, and crowning this section is the laying of the cornerstone of the Capitol building. The war side has first a panel symbolizing the stern ideal of deadly strife—a British grenadier fully armed, attacking a peaceful farmer, near a rude log cabin whose sinewy arm has already sent him reeling to the ground, while the stalwart yeoman's wife is seen handing her husband his trusty firelock, in case he should need it. Above this is the Bayonett charge at Trenton—then the Rebuke of General Lee by Washington, at Monmouth—and finally the Death of General Warren. The panel representing the reprimand of General Lee is a most striking and life-like scene Washington had always, it seems, suspected Lee of disloyalty, and on this occasion found that he had not only failed utterly to carry out his express orders, but had actually ordered and commenced a most cowardly retreat. Washington is seen as having ridden rapidly to where he meets Lee under a tree, and rising in the stirrups of his saddle, administers a rebuke that droops the traitor's head as much as Lee's military salute to his chieftain has his sword. It is said that this was the only occasion in which Washington was ever known to use language even bordering on profanity. The singular thing about this particular panel is that Jeff. Davis was one of the commissioners to examine Crawford's designs for this historic and conspicuous piece of work for the new Capitol—the wonder, being that he, or any other Southern man, should have consented to emblazon this withering shame on one of the most engaging pets of the South. Yet so it is—and let the sympathizers with his fitting representative, in the person of Robert E. Lee, remember the prophecy of the panel, and its historic verification to-day.

An Old Citizen Killed by His Neighbor in Arkansas, Five and a Half Miles from Memphis.

Last Saturday evening a bloody encounter occurred, five and a half miles from this city, on the Arkansas side of the river, between two old and well-known citizens, Mr. Goff and Mr. Lake, which resulted in the shooting of both—Goff mortally and Lake slightly. The facts are these, related to us: Messrs. Goff and Lake had some misunderstanding on business matters, and on Saturday last Mr. G. wrote a letter to Mr. L. on the subject, when L. sent word by James Goff that if the old gentleman would meet him at the steam saw-mill on the Memphis and Little Rock Railroad, five miles and a half from Memphis, they would try and settle it amicably.

Goff and his son James came with a double-barreled shot-gun. Some high words passed between the old men, then they came to blows; friends interfered, and Lake went to the house to get his gun; young Goff shot at him as he went, but missed. Lake got his musket, came out and attempted to shoot, but missed fire. Goff shot again, but missed. Lake returned to the house and recapped his gun and returned to the attack, shooting at the old man this time and hitting him in the abdomen, which proved fatal in a few hours. Young Goff then, having loaded his gun again, shot Lake in the left arm slightly. During the first part of the affray young Goff succeeded in getting Lake's pistol from him, this, perhaps, saving more trouble than might otherwise have occurred.—Memphis Argus, 26th.

Clear as Mud.

A writer in the "Crescent Monthly," New Orleans, thus pies on the agony in a description of General Lee's surrender:

"The supreme hour was now come, when, from across Fame's burning eclipse, where it had traced, in flaming scheen, its luminous path of glory, the pencil of Rebellion of the Southern Color, in all the splendor of its expression, Hyade's brightness, should sink to rest beyond the lurid war clouds, in the fateful western heaven, there to bring out, in death's dark canopy, the immortal lights of immortal deeds, and spirits great and glorious, shining forever down upon a cause in darkness like the lightering hosts upon a world in night."

NATIONAL MILITARY ASYLUM.

The Managers of the National Asylum for disabled Volunteer Soldiers, under the Act of Congress, approved March 21, 1866, ask proposals for sites for Asylums or donations for sale. The sites must be situated in one of the Loyal States, contain at least 300 acres of land and be in a healthy location and easy of access by railroad or otherwise. It is the purpose of the managers to erect, without delay, extensive and permanent buildings for said Asylums, and the Asylum will be largely advantageous to any section or railroad in the vicinity of its location.

Plans, specifications and estimates for Asylum buildings, including detached cottages, are also asked for the approval of the Board. Liberal compensation will be made for successful plan.

Proposals, plans, specifications and estimates with full information relating thereto, containing price and description of grounds and terms and conditions of transfer—must be sent to Major General H. W. Berdan, at Roswell, Mass., on or before the 15th day of June, 1866.

CITY AND NEIGHBORHOOD.

(ADDITIONAL ON FIRST PAGE.)

United Presbyterian General Assembly.

FIFTH DAY.

The Assembly convened at the usual hour yesterday morning, Rev. Dr. Kerr, Moderator, in the Chair. After prayer the roll was called, and the minutes of the preceding session were read and approved.

A motion was offered, instructing the Presbyteries to inquire of the churches under their charge, what they have done, or what they propose doing in the way of erecting houses for the accommodation of their ministers. Adopted.

The following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, That the Ministers and Elders of the United Presbyterian Church are earnestly requested to co-operate with Mr. J. M. Wilson, now engaged in compiling a history of all the Presbyterian churches, in his important labors in behalf of the whole Presbyterian Church.

At ten o'clock the Moderator introduced to the Assembly Rev. Herrick Johnson, Commissioner from the New School General Assembly. Rev. Mr. Johnson, on taking the stand, delivered an address, extending the Christian regard and congratulations of the body he represented to the Assembly, for the high position taken by the U. P. Church on the great question of the day. On the conclusion of the gentleman's remarks, Dr. Kerr received the Commissioner on behalf of the Assembly in a most cordial manner.

Rev. N. E. Smith, D. D., Commissioner from the Reformed Dutch Synod, presented his credentials, which were received, and, on motion, to-morrow morning at ten o'clock was fixed as the time for the formal reception of the delegate.

A report from the Presbytery of Bloomington, Ill., on the bequest of John Pinkerton, of Carroll county, Ill., was read. The report suggested that as the administrators of the deceased were unwilling to pay the amount, some action should be taken by the Assembly to secure the legacy. On motion, the report was referred to the Committee on Finance.

A resolution was adopted that the bequest made by James McConnell, of Hebron, of $500, to the Home of Foreign Mission Fund, be received by the Board of Trustees, and that it be applied to the Foreign Mission Fund.

Dr. James Brown read a memorial from the superintendent of the Monmouth Theological Seminary, requesting the Assembly to adopt a uniform course of study in the Theological Seminaries under the care of the church. The memorialist also recommended that the course should embrace not less than three sessions of seven months each, and deprecated the practice of licensing students before the course completed. Laid on the table for future consideration.

The Assembly called up by a vote the report of the Committee on the Board of Foreign Missions, which was under consideration at the hour of adjournment last evening. The question of was pending on the third resolution of the report, which authorizes an immediate reinforcement of the missions of India, China, and Syria.

Dr. Phillips, Secretary of the Board, made an earnest appeal for the adoption of the resolution. Remarks were also made by Rev. H. H. Blair, in opposition, and Rev. D. G. Bradford in favor.

An amendment was then offered and adopted, striking out the word "immediate" and inserting the words "as soon as possible."

The question then coming on the resolution having been ordered, a vote was taken separately on the reinforcement of each field, which was carried in the affirmative. The resolution was then adopted.

Pending the consideration of the fourth resolution, Assembly adjourned until 9 o'clock A. M. Prayer was offered by D. S. Littell.

The Dry Goods House of Gardiner and Schleiter.

It is an item of much importance to our lady readers to know where to purchase to the best advantage their supplies of Dry Goods. In this city we have a number of long established houses where prosperity is a sufficient index of their character. Prominent among them is the favorite Dry Goods establishment of Messrs. Gardiner and Schleiter, No. 92 Market street. They control a large share of the patronage of the city and neighboring country, simply because they sell goods of the best quality at prices that leave but little margin for profits. They advertise no more than their stock and system warrants, and persons calling there for bargains will not be disappointed. The firm are constantly adding to their already large and finely selected stock of dress and piece goods, and all tastes can be gratified. Everything in the way of silks, satins, velvets, calicos, chintzes, delains, lawns, laces, linens, muslins, &c., is to be found there at prices nearly as low as they were in the days previous to the late rebellion. A number of attentive and obliging salesmen anxious to show, please and to sell to their customers, will always be found in attendance. The proprietors are gentlemen thoroughly experienced in their business, and are too well known among the shopping ladies to need any commendation from us. They desire and ask but a trial, feeling that the purchaser will find it to his interest to deal with them. We cheerfully refer our readers to the card of this firm in another column.

Extensive Establishment.

We took a stroll through the extensive establishment of Messrs. J. C. Buffum & Co., Nos. 22 and 24 Market street, a few days since, and were really amazed at the magnitude of the business done by this enterprising firm. Two three story brick buildings are occupied in the manufacture of sarsaparilla, lemon and raspberry soda waters, raspberry, strawberry and lemon syrups; beside which choice ales, brown stout, lager beer and champagne cider are also closely prepared, and either bottled or sold by the barrel, half barrel or keg. At the present time forty hands are constantly employed, and it requires about seven hundred dozen bottles of mineral water and sarsaparilla to supply the demand per day, or some ten thousand gross yearly. Want of space compels us to omit making mention of many things that attracted our attention in this establishment. One, however, will explain how it comes that Buffum's soda waters are so famous for their sparkling clearness at all seasons. In the third story of one of the buildings is an immense water filterer, through which all the water used passes, so that every particle of sediment is removed, and no matter how muddy the river, it comes forth pure and clear. Some six thousand pounds of sugar are used weekly in this establishment. We need say nothing of the quality of the beverages sold by Buffum & Co., as they are known far and near.

Fell Over a Precipice.

—Yesterday morning a man named Jacob Turner, was found lying beside the track of the Pittsburgh and Connellsville Railroad, near Soho Station, with several bruises about the head, and his right arm broken above the elbow. On being taken to his residence a short distance from where he was found, he stated that he had fell over the precipice above Soho Station, while endeavoring to ascend the hill by a narrow path about four inches wide. Turner's wounds though painful, are not of a dangerous character.

False Pretense.

—George Wieberger appeared before Alderman Miller yesterday and charged Gottlieb Warner with having procured from him, some time last winter, the sum of $50, under false representation. It appears that Warner represented to the deponent that property was located in the Fourth Ward, Alleghany, was his individual property, which turned out to be false. As soon as this fact became known to Weiberger he made the information and a warrant was issued for the arrest of the accused.

Organization of the School Board of the Borough of Temperanceville.

—The newly elected school Board of the above named Borough met on Monday evening, the 4th instant. Members present, Messrs. Gamble, in the Chair, Carnahan, Richards and Melbowell. Samuel Carnanan was chosen President, John D. Richards, Secretary, and George R. Gamble, Treasurer for the ensuing year.

Pushing Forward.

—There is great travel over the Allegheny Valley Railroad at the present time, and the transportation of freight is equally large. Under the management of the efficient Superintendent, H. Bacekstock, Esq., and the Presidency of Colonel Wm. Phillips, the stock of the road is certain to prove among the best in the market.

The Eagle Pic-Nic.

—The pic-nic given by the Eagle Fire Company, yesterday, was a grand success. The Committee of Arrangements discharged the duties devolving on them with satisfaction to all, and it is owing to their efforts that the pleasure of their guests was not marred in any way.

Slander.

—Annie Tuatan made information before Alderman Johns yesterday, against Mary Friel for slander. It appears that Mary is in the habit of calling the deponent all sorts of harsh names, and of slandalizing her to her neighbors. A warrant was issued.

A Pittsburgher Drowned.

—A deck hand named Michael Dougherty, from Pittsburgh, was drowned off the steamer Laurel Hill, near Memphis, a few days since, while in the act of drawing a bucket of water when the boat was in motion. The body has not been recovered.

Good News.

—Butter of the best quality is selling in our markets at twenty-five cents per pound.

OUR EARLY TELEGRAMS.

LATE FENIAN INTELLIGENCE.

Another Fenian to be Shot—Movement on Malone—Fenian Spies in Montreal—Fight at Cornwallis Expected—More Arms Seized—Special Message of Gen Sweeny—Canal Cut by Fenians—Appeals from Prieste—British Deserters Shot—The Fenian Prisoners—Twenty-five or Thirty Shot in the Woods—Fenian Council of War—Grand Movement Imminent—Stirring News Anticipated Soon.

NEW YORK, June 5.—A special from Buffalo states that another Fenian was to be shot at Fort Erie this morning.

Large quantities of arms, at P. O'Day's, were seized yesterday.

A special from Antwerp, New York, States: The Fenians are moving on Malone, and are said to have artillery.

Another Buffalo special says: On the arrival of the Canadian troops at Fort Erie, after the Fenian retreat, the United States Consul sent grape was fired into them, killing a British officer while standing in his own door with the United States flag waving over his house. He has demanded an apology.

A Montreal special says: All quiet at 7 P. M. on Monday in Plattsburg, border and vicinity. A meeting was held at Montreal to organize a home guard. A large number of Fenian spies are in the city. The Mayor compelled the police to take the oath of allegiance. A number refused and were discharged.

It is now thought that the Fenians will make a stand, if anywhere, at or near Cornwall, and there may be a collision at any moment. The Canadian forces are very strong. The gunboat Royal has gone up the canal, bound west. The Hercules and Canada will be ready on Wednesday. The British gunboat Prince Alfred arrived from Quebec. All quiet at Malone and Cornwallis.

A Rutland, Vermont, special says: The main body of the Fenians is at Fairfield, with a smaller column at Swanton, and a force at about twelve miles from Canada. It is reported that the Fenians have crossed the border in large force, and are marching towards St. Lawrence. A large body of Fenians is reported to have crossed over the Vermont Central Railroad to-night; probably the same force that crossed this way, which is two thousand strong.

St. Albans, Vt., specials say that thirty seven cases of Fenian arms were seized at Rouse's Point. The Fenian camp at Fairfield has moved toward the Canada line. Colonel Gibson is in command of the United States forces.

A special message from Gen. Sweeny reached Gen. Spear's headquarters. Something important is soon to be done.

Another Buffalo special says:—There is great excitement in consequence of the Canadian news. Much enthusiasm prevails on the part of the volunteers, who will probably be ordered to the front. A British steamer left Halifax on Sunday, with the 17th regulars, for Quebec. Part of the 15th regiment has been ordered to Canada.

An Ogdensburg special says that there are about three thousand volunteers at Prescott.

Specials from Postdam contain reports that Brockville is in a state of business equal to that of Cotean du Lac to the St. Lawrence river. They also state that Gen. Murphy is to cross at St. Regis, or Cornwall, with 4,000 infantry. Another column is to cross at Business Ford, Lapraririe, and cut the Lachine canal, while Gen Spear, with three thousand men, is to move from St. Albans via Fairfield, cutting the railroad at St. Johns Junction, and the Grand Trunk at St. Hilara and St. Hyacinthe. These operations, it is supposed, will cut off Montreal from succor.

The force at St. Albans is moving. Sweeny moves to-night from Malone. A fight is expected on Tuesday night.

A Montreal special says the 7th regiment has arrived from Quebec. Five hundred troops are to arrive on the Nova Scotia from England by Tuesday morning.

The Irish priests have made appeals to their congregations to resist the invaders.

An Ogdensburg special says there are 3,000 regulars and 3,000 volunteers at Prescott, and Fort Wellington has four heavy Armstrong guns mounted.

A Buffalo dispatch says the men shot at Fort Erie were British deserters.

Warrants were issued by the United States Commissioner for the arrest and examination of all the Fenian prisoners held on the Michigan, and a strong effort will be made to serve them in the morning before the prisoners can be brought before Judge Clinton on the Writ of Habeas corpus.

A thousand Fenians are known to have arrived in Buffalo within the last twenty-four hours. An unusually patrol has been kept here to-night and in the British camps.

The first regiment of New York regulars arrived to-night.

BUFFALO, June 5.—At an early hour this morning, warrants were issued by the United States Commissioner in this city, commanding the United States Marshals to apprehend Fenian officers who are now on board the steamer Michigan, and bring them before the Commissioners for examination, when it will be decided whether they shall be held for trial before Judge Hall. The complaint is stated as follows:

"Whereas, Complaint has this day been made that ——did, on or about the third day of May, 1866, in the city of Buffalo, within the Northern District of New York, and within the jurisdiction of the United States, begin and set on foot and provide and prepare the means for a military expedition to be carried on from thence against the territory and dominions of the Province of Upper Canada, being under the government and people, with which the United States are at peace, contrary to the provisions of the act of Congress concerning neutrality, passed April 20th, 1818, etc.

It is said that the officers made no defence, confessing a breach of the neutrality laws.

The writ in the above cases was served last evening, returnable at nine o'clock this morning, but the hearing was postponed till nine o'clock this morning. It is understood Judge Boyson, of the Michigan, came to consult with the Washington authorities. The prisoners are really in the custody of the civil authorities, and the military and naval forces are guarding them.

BUFFALO, N. Y., June 5.—LATER.—Early this morning four more Fenian prisoners were brought in from Fort Erie, making 21 in all now in the jail. Many of them meet with a quick fate, as the volunteers shoot them dead where found.

It is reported that no less than twenty-five or thirty have been shot in the woods around about Fort Erie and Ridgeway, but this needs confirmation. Further arrests are expected to be made about one hundred prisoners, of whom fifty are civilians, as arrests were made with very little discretion.

Sixty are expected to be lodged in the Brantford jail, and a few at Fort Colborne. All the trains on the Grand Trunk road are running regularly, and mail west.

Col. O'Neil, of Chicago, who assumed command of the Fenians of Buffalo, on Friday night, left the city Sunday night, and a number of the Fenians who were waiting to reinforce Col. O'Neil. Lynch declared that had the situation been known at Chicago, a British steamer would have been captured and detained for the purpose of joining the Fenians at Fort Erie.

An expedition comprising some three hundred men, under the command of captain Donahue, is reported to have left the city last night. Their destination is unknown, but their departure was known to the U. S. authorities.

General Barry last night received a dispatch from the General Staff at Washington that nothing had been effected at any point in that vicinity.

Two companies of Battery H, United States Artillery, from Fort Schuyler, arrived here this forenoon, and other troops came last night.

The report that arms had been seized at P. O'Day's store, on the Tonawanda line, is incorrect, as the only arms taken from his shop were seized in the way of business by the Fenians.

We can get no confirmation of the street rumors that the United States Consul at Fort Erie was insulted by British officers or any other man.

WATERTOWN, N. Y., June 5.—A Fenian train was come up with at Redwood, the first station south of Dekalb Junction, by a company of United States troops, who took the arms, ammunition and men in charge. The Fenians were surrounded in the woods when the troops arrived, intending to run them across the country, having received information of troops awaiting them at Dekalb. No resistance was made.

The morning train going north has on board a company of Fenians and a detachment of United States troops.

NEW YORK, June 5.—Dispatches from St. Albans, yesterday, says: The Council of War of the Fenians was closed this morning, after much discussion, though the Fenian army are about to move, a number of them think it inexpedient with the present short allowance of ammunition and supplies, but are ready to obey implicitly.

Gen. Spear expected to find seventeen regiments, with plenty of stores, here, and five at Malone. There is not a regiment here now. He found no military organization nor any preparation for any. The officers say that $10,000 were raised in Boston and only $1,000 expended for transportation. They ask where is the remainder. They blame the New York and Boston Committee for withdrawing the assistance they need at once. Still they are ready to go into action.

A special messenger has arrived here from General Murphy at Malone. He reports that Murphy has over one thousand armed men, and moves to-night. General Spear will move soon, and will co-operate with Murphy. It is authentically stated here that a grand meeting will take place from all points to-night, and stirring news may be expected to-morrow. The dissatisfied here are now more confident. A small quantity of arms and ammunition has been secured by the Fenians, and they are making strong efforts to seize confiscated stores, some of which have succeeded.

United Presbyterian General Assembly.

FIFTH DAY—AFTERNOON SESSION.

The Assembly met pursuant to adjournment and was called to order by the Moderator. Prayer was then offered, after which the minutes of the morning session was read and approved.

The Committee on the Board of Freedmen's Mission then handed in their report, which was read and, on motion, approved. The report was in the form of a series of resolutions, thanking a munificent Providence for favoring, during the past year, the work of the Board, which had been crowned by a success far beyond their most sanguine expectations, and expressing a hope that in the future the Board will receive the aid and hearty cooperation of the church.

The chairman of the Committee on Bills and Overtures handed in the report of the committee, which was read by the Clerk. Among other things it contained the vote of the various Presbyteries on the adoption or rejection of the proposed changes in the book of Church Government.

The vote, as announced, stood: For the change, 267; against the change, 45; not voting, 5.

Several communications were read from different Presbyteries suggesting alterations in the book as it now stands.

After a light debate the report was accepted and the committee continued.

On motion, the rules were suspended and the report of the Committee on the Board of Foreign Missions was called up.

The fourth resolution of the report, which provides for the sending of young men who have completed their literary course to labor as missionaries in the foreign field, was taken up.

Rev. H. H. Blair hoped that no young man would be sent abroad until he had left Christ until his theological studies had been completed, and he was therefore opposed to the adoption of the resolution, believing that a missionary to heathendom should be a licensed preacher of the Master, and not a student of Divinity.

Rev. Patterson thought it advisable for the good of the Church to send out young men, as provided for in the resolution, not that regular ministers would not be preferable, but in view of the fact that such cannot be obtained, he was in favor of supplying the field with such material as can be obtained. He thought that hitherto the time of the missionaries had been sacrificed, inasmuch as that it required three years before the missionary can become acclimated and learn the language of the country to which he is sent.

At length a vote was taken on the resolution and it was declared carried.

The order of the day—being the report of the Committee on Home Missions—was then called for by the Moderator. A delegate moved that the Assembly go into an extra judicial conference upon the report, the motion being taken, the motion prevailed, and the Moderator vacated the chair in favor of Rev. H. H. Blair.

On motion of Mr. Robert M'Candless, the time allotted to each member for speaking was limited to five minutes.

On motion of Rev. W. W. Waddell the ministers of that City, Pittsburgh, who were not members of the Assembly were invited to participate in the conference.

The Committee reported the following resolutions:

Resolved, That the work of the Home Missions demands the special attention and support of the U. P. Church.

Resolved, That the Board of Home Missions is entitled to, and should receive, at least an equal amount with the Board of Foreign Missions for mission purposes.

Rev. Dr. Bullard, of Xenia, warmly advocated the adoption of the report, stating that while the Foreign Board had asked for $100,000, the Domestic Mission only asked $40,000 to defray the expenses of the ensuing year. He did not wish it to be understood that he opposed the granting of the appropriation asked for by the Board of Foreign Missods, but he merely desired to know if the Assembly meant to give all to the work abroad while the work at home needed attention? He thought that if proper support was given to the home missions the field abroad would soon show the beneficial effect of such a course.

Rev. Dr. McLaren stated that the antagonism which had been manifested by the friends of either Board was only a seeming antagonism, and that as both desired to advance the work of Christ, and as the entire world, irrespective of countries, was the field of operations, a unison of feeling on this question was very desirable.

Rev. W. Wadell agreed with Dr. McLaren that there should be a unity of sentiment between the Boards, as the object for which they labored was identical. But, so far as his personal feelings were concerned, he was in favor of giving all the aid possible toward the enlightenment of the heathen abroad.

Rev. Van Eaton also spoke in favor of giving support to the Foreign Mission.

Rev. Blair, of Cannonsburg, thought that the Assembly should reflect before voting immense sums to the Missions. He though that the money of the country was drained by the various congregations during the current year, the Assembly should retrench instead of expand the expenses.

To end the matter a delegate offered the following substitute which was adopted.

Resolved, That the Home Missions receive a liberal share of the money raised for missionary purposes.

After prayer the Assembly adjourned.

Addy, Williams & Bartley.

With much pleasure we refer our readers to the card, in another column, of Messrs. Addy, Williams & Bartley, corner of Sixth and Smithfield streets. These gentlemen are extensively engaged in the plumbing and gasfitting business, and have ample facilities for carrying on their business in a first class style. They are all experienced and competent mechanics, and their work is warranted to prove neat, durable and satisfactory. They have just been awarded the contract of laying the pipes and furnishing the lamps for the publi lighting of the borough of Manchester, in their store will be found a varied assortment of elegant and plain chandeliers, pendants, shades, lamps and brackets, and a full line of pipes, bathing apparatus, sinks, busts, pumice, hydrants and hose. The gentlemen comprising the firm are to be found attentive, accommodable, content with small profits and anxious to please and satisfy their patrons. They are eminently deserving of public patronage.

Allegheny Board of Control—The Allegheny Board of Control held a regular meeting last evening, at their room in the Sandusky street schoolhouse. A number of communications, of an educational simport, received and read, no business worthy of report was transacted.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

TUESDAY, June 5, 1866.

Gold has still further advanced, opening in New York at 144, and closing at 146¾. Government bonds without quotable change, 1881's, 109¾; 5-20's, (old) 102; ditto, (new) 102¾; 10-40's, 99; 7-30's, 102⅝@102¾; Cleveland & Pittsburgh Railroad stock sold at 85¾; Pittsburgh & Fort Wayne, 97½; Bennehoff Run, (oil) 12¼; Pithole Creek, 2¾; United States, 4¾.

There is but little inquiry for any of our local stocks. Exchange Bank stock is in demand, as is also, M. & M. The inquiry for the latter, is in consequence of an expected dividend. Oil stocks are very much neglected, though the recent reported strikes have infused a little more life into the West Virginia Companies.

Foreign exchange is quoted at 109¾@110 for 60 day bills, and short sight at 111¾@111¾. It is this unusually large demand for sight exchange that is putting up gold, and heavy shipments are anticipated to-morrow. It is a little strange that our government bonds do not sympathize with the advance in gold, though by some it is taken as an indication that the advance will not be sustained. The shipments of Five Twenties from London are large, but they cannot be sold here as they are below the par figure, and legal-tenders limited at a certain figure, and legal-tenders have depreciated as an article to be exchanged for coin or its equivalent. 7-30's barely hold their own, though as yet, they have not declined.

—Should Mr. Sherman's bill pass, (says the Philadelphia Ledger) consolidating the short public debt, to the amount of some two thousand millions of dollars, into one five per cent loan, the bonds of issue will be the only 5 per cent coin-bearing stock on the market. The original Five Twenties of 1862 will be redeemable after the 30th of April, 1867, at the option of the Treasury Department, which stands committed to the policy of paying principal, as well as interest, in coin. It is doubted whether the majority of the holders of these bonds would elect to have coin paid to them absolutely. We know that some parties contend otherwise, and profess to believe that the holders of the short loan would prefer to avail themselves of a privilege of converting their bonds into consolidated five per cent stock, on an equitable basis, as between the contracting parties. The total of the outstanding Five Twenties, of all three series, is $865,784,000.

—The export movement of this country is now attracting much attention. A statement just published by the Journal of Commerce shows, compared with some former seasons, a wide difference in the shipments of the big product. During the first four months of 1866 there were sent out 93,000 barrels of pork, 119,294,000 pounds of cut meats, and 37,891,505 lbs. of lard, against 39,356 barrels of pork, 15,000,000 pounds of cut meats, and 12,087,482 pounds of lard, in corresponding time last year. A similar discrepancy in shipments of various other items in the comparative statement, made, the amount of product bills of exchange is quite small.

—The proposed amendment to the National Bank Act, relating to the returns to be made to the Comptroller of the currency, requires the banks to make their reports in detail every month, instead of every quarter as heretofore, and also requires the reports now made on the first Monday in January, April, July and October, to be as much more in detail as the Comptroller may require in writing to describe. The items required to be separately stated in each report are clearly defined, and the monthly report must be verified under oath by the cashier, and also either by one of them, and two of the directors, and the quarterly report by a majority of the directors.

New York Stock and Money Market.

NEW YORK, June 5.—Money steady at 6@7 per cent. Sterling irregular and unsettled. Merchants' bills are very dull at 108¾@109. Bankers' bills quoted at 109¾@110⅝. Gold excited and higher, opening at 144¾, advancing to 146⅝, declining to 145¾, and closing at 146. Government Stocks less active and rather easier. Freights to Liverpool very firm and quiet. Stocks dull and lower; Chicago & Alton, 96; Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago, 97¼; Chicago & Rock Island, 93½; Chicago & Northwestern, 36¾ do. preferred, 80½; Illinois Central, 118½; Cleveland & Pittsburgh, 85¾; Michigan Southern, 85; Reading, 105½; Hudson River, 119½; Erie, 63½; do. preferred, 75. New York Central, 101 @ 101½. Coupons, 1862, 108; 5-20s, 102¾; Western Union Telegraph, 60; Cleveland & Pittsburgh Bonds, 101.

The Post's money article says: The loan market is easy to-day, closing with only occasional transactions at seven per cent. Commercial paper is still scarce, and rates are unchanged. The stock market shows more animation. Government securities are falling, but there is more disposition to sell. Railroad shares are strong, especially Erie, in which there is a very large short interest, and the stock is scarce for delivery. The Central New York Central was quoted at 99¾@99¾, and Erie at 65¾@63⅞; but later Erie sold at 64⅝.

The report in the morning papers that the Erie Company had purchased $1,500,000 gold with Mr. Drew for $1,500,000, and that three millions of convertible bonds had been deposited as collateral is without any foundation in fact.

The Journal of Commerce complains that the Sub-Treasury is paying out very large sums of national bank notes of small denominations, mostly ten dollars. The bank officers receive large checks on the Sub-Treasury, receive in payment these huge bundles of bank notes in unbroken packages, and the question with them is what to do with this currency. They cannot use them to pay their debts at the Clearing House, and they must turn them into legal tender notes, for it must be remembered that these national bank issues are a legal tender from the Government and to the banks, but are not a legal tender from the banks. They must dispose of these bills in some way.

The present method is to lend them without interest for five days, to be paid for in greenbacks. Most of this business is done with Messrs. Jay Cooke & Co., who have so many millions held from the banks here, for which they pay no interest for the interval named, the burden is daily becoming heavier.

The Petroleum and Mining stocks were generally steady to-day. United States, however, was heavy and fell off to 4½.

NEW YORK, June 5.—At the four o'clock board the following were the sales: Canton, 60; Cumberland, 20¾; Spruce Hill, 4½; Quicksilver, 54¾; Western Union Telegraph, 60½; Mariposa, 9½; New York and Mariposa, 7½; Reading, 102½. Gold closed at 145¾.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, TUESDAY, June 5, 1866.

The produce markets were moderately active to-day, as there is a continued fair local demand for nearly all of the leading commodities, but prices do not keep pace with gold, which advanced to 146 in New York to-day, the highest point it has touched for many months.

GRAIN—Wheat is firm and in good demand but unchanged at $2,20 to $2,25 for good Springs. Oats quiet and in good supply; sale of 1 car prime, in elevator, at 58c, seller to sack deliver; also, small sales from store at 60. PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, TUESDAY, June 5, 1866.

CRUDE—The market for Crude was again unusually brisk to-day, the sales being unusually large in the aggregate, but prices have undergone no quotable change—14 barrels returned and in bulk, and 146 bbls included. The demand for shipment was active, and our refiners are buying pretty freely, though there is a disposition manifested on the part of some of them to hold off for lower figures. Sales in lots of 200 bbls, in bulk, and bbls returned, all at 14; 100 do at 14½; packages included; 180 at 15; 370 at 15½, free on bo rd cars; 170 at 19½, on street; 300 at 15½, on board cars, and 250 bbls "Amber" at 15, bbls returned. The receipts continue fair, though not as largeas predicted by some, who were in hopes that the arrivals would be sufficiently large to break down the market.

REFINED—There was also an improved demand for bonded oil to-day, but so far as we could learn the transactions were not extensive, and the difference in the shipments of the big product. During the first four months of 1866 there were sent out 93,000 barrels of pork, 119,294,000 pounds of cut meats, and 37,891,505 lbs. of lard, against 39,356 barrels of pork, 15,000,000 pounds of cut meats, and 12,087,482 pounds of lard, in corresponding time last year. ALLEGHENY CATTLE MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, TUESDAY, June 5, 1866.

CATTLE—There was again a very good supply of Cattle on sale this week, being estimated in round numbers at nine hundred head, and with a fair demand, the market ruled steady, and full prices were realized. The Cattle, in point of quality, were hardly up to the usual standard, and while it is true, that there were some few droves of as good cattle as have been offered here this season, and for which extreme prices were realized, it is also true, that as a general thing, the offerings consisted mostly of rough and unsightly oxen and steers, and as a matter of course, for these particular grades, holders were compelled to submit to a reduction. Our butchers continue to buy rather sparingly, alleging that they cannot afford to pay the present exorbitant prices, but the demand for shipment was rather better than last week, and as will be seen by reference to the report of sales annexed, Barney Grey has been about again, picking up all the good cattle he could find, and he was assisted somewhat by Messrs. Marks & Trautman. Barney, when he takes the notion to buy does not stop under one to two hundred head, and this number taken out of the market, very frequently imparts a firmer feeling, and gives holders a little more backbone. There were fewer cattle here from Chicago this week, and more from Ohio than for several weeks past, and included in the lot was one drove from Iowa. For some time past, good cattle have been worth as much, if not more, in Chicago as they were here, counting cost of transportation, feed bills, etc., and quite a number of drovers are of the opinion that they can buy to a better advantage nearer home.

SHEEP AND LAMBS—The supply of Sheep this week was again fully up to the demand, reaching about one thousand head, though there were but few left over. As compared with last week, prices have undergone but little change, ranging from 4½ to 5¾ per lb., gross, the latter figure only for prime fat mutton Sheep. Included in the operations were the following: Jacob Beckstock retailed 130 head at $5,50 to $5,90, and Emerick & Co. 45 head at $4,50@$5 per head. Lambs are selling at from $2,50 to $4 per head.

SWINE—The demand for Hogs continues exceedingly light, being restricted altogether to supplying the wants of the local trade. In a retail way, prices may be fairly given at 9½ to 10 cents, gross, for fair to prime heavy averages.

The market for beef cattle has ended firmer again this week, the receipts not being adequate to the demand, and there is little or no change, nothing of the demand from Brooklyn, &c. The cattle were all of an excellent quality, and an advance of ½c per pound was readily realized, the selling quick at 9½c, and severe and some higher, but the bulk of the sales were at 15¾@17c. There were scarcely any inferior cattle on sale. All were sold, and several lots more could have been sold at full prices. Veals are active at $7@13, and sound bring yet more. Sheep and lambs were steady, though the market had been depressed all the week. Hogs quiet.
